64TH Annual Meeting

DECEMBER 7-8, 2023
WESTIN ST. FRANCIS HOTEL, SAN FRANCISCO, CA

EX CEEDING CELLENCE

Nolan Armstrong
ADCNCN 2023 President

President's Welcome

Welcome to the 64th Annual Meeting! We are so happy to be back again in San Francisco at the St. Francis Hotel in Union Square. It was wonderful to be back in-person last year, and we are looking forward to building off the success of last year's event.

Special thanks to Annual Meeting Chair, ADC's Second Vice President, Patrick Deedon, who planned various educational programs which will enhance your practice and make you a better lawyer. You can obtain your MCLE credits while spending a few days during the holidays in San Francisco with your colleagues.

The order of things at this year's Annual Meeting will track the 2022 Annual Meeting. For those who attended in 2022, things were a little different from prior years. We will still commence on Thursday morning (December 7th), but we will have our annual luncheon on Thursday instead of Friday (December 8th).

We are honored to present you with three guest speakers this year. Plenary speaker Jane McInnis will kick things off with a bit of humor on Thursday morning. She will be followed by Chief Justice Tani Cantil-Sakauye (retired from the California Supreme Court), who will address the group during lunch on Thursday, and then Michael Putnam, President of Keller Williams Advisors, will serve as our inspiration speaker on Friday morning.

"The Mike Brady Year in Review" remains unchanged, except for the name. Don't miss this on Thursday morning, along with the usual "State of the Courts" address by Bay Area judges. As usual, Thursday afternoon is filled with excellent MCLE's on topics of interest including AI, legal ethics, IT security, and traumatic brain injury claims.

And then there's the cocktail party (aka "President's Reception") on Thursday evening ... always a memorable event and something we all look forward to.

As usual, on Friday morning (December 8th), the ADC's legislative advocate, Mike Belote, will bring us up to date on developments in the legislature for 2023. Please join us for "Breakfast with Mike." This session will be followed by an MCLE focused on improving courtroom persuasion. We will be finished by noon, so that you can enjoy San Francisco or beat the traffic and head home.

"Exceeding Excellence" has been our overall theme for the year and for this Annual Meeting. The ADC continues to stay strong and build on our success as we navigate the post-pandemic world. The ADC events held in 2023 have been bigger and better than ever, and membership numbers and financials remain strong. Please join us in celebrating our organization at this year's Annual Meeting.

Thank you for your continued support and membership in the ADC.

We can't wait and are looking forward to seeing you! Thank you for attending.

His commitment is to serving people, while achieving outstanding results, and he believes that each needs the other to reach their highest levels. Michael has been a top 1% agent in his market, took his personal sales team to over 200 clients served per year, and led a national real estate team that expanded into over 160 locations. He now serves in the role of President for Keller Williams Advisors, a family of Keller Williams brokerages and affiliated businesses in Northern and Southern California, with combined sales of over $3B and revenues of over $15M per year. It is a wild tale involving internet thieves believed to reside in Nigeria, a British Special Forces Office stationed in Yemen whose identity was stolen, Maria, the owner of a struggling beauty parlor in Arlington Texas, and two major banks.

4:30 pm – 5:30 pm The Resilient Mind: Navigating Workplace Pressures to Avoid Burnout and Cultivate Resilience

Georgian Room

In today's world, leaders in the legal profession are empowered with skills, motivation, and talents to achieve success; yet sometimes, the very goal of success and excellence can lead to perfectionism. Indeed, this is a paradox. In a success-driven culture, perfectionism and stress have become dual-barriers to mental health and well-being. Those who achieve the traditional hallmarks of success are often the most at risk for mental illness and physical health issues. The World Health Organization (WHO) recently reported that burnout is at an all-time high, particularly for those in the legal profession. Recent public health research illustrates the prevalence of mental health issues (depression, anxiety) and heightened substance use among this group.

Michele M. Tugade, Ph.D.
Vassar College

This talk focuses on “resilience,” which is the ability to bounce back from stress and effectively navigate burnout from the many pressures of our lives. Dr. Tugade will discuss science-based strategies to overcome burnout and achieve resilience. The overall aim will be to consider how legal professionals can manage personal well-being for effective leadership and success in the courtroom and in their communities.
